

My Comments in Favor of Net Neutrality.

Net neutrality is not only important in my work as a Graphic Designer, but as a creator of websites and content, I believe it is everybody's unrestricted right to view information on the internet. Any restriction on part of providers of internet services, to me, is a violation of the rights of any private citizen of the United States.

Matthew Odom